INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Nashville Ballet

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of the Nashville Ballet as of May 31, 2006 and 2005 and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Nashville Ballet as of May 31, 2006 and 2005, and the changes in net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
Years ended May 31, 2006 and 2005

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Activities

The Nashville Ballet (the “Ballet”) was incorporated in 1981 as a Tennessee not-for-profit corporation. The Ballet’s mission is to maintain a resident professional ballet company with an affiliated school, mandated to educate and entertain. It is a resident group of the Tennessee Performing Arts Center and collaborates with other arts organizations to promote community cultural enrichment. The Ballet presents a varied repertoire of classical, neoclassical and contemporary works.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and accordingly reflects all significant receivables, payables and other liabilities.

Basis of Presentation

The Ballet is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets and permanently restricted net assets.

Contributions

Contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted or permanently restricted revenues and other support depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. All donor-restricted support is reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished), temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Contributions whose restrictions are met in the same reporting period are shown as increases in unrestricted net assets.

Contributions are generally available for unrestricted use in the current year unless specifically restricted by the donor. Pledges receivable are recorded as received. Pledges due in the next year are reflected as current pledges receivable and are recorded at their net realizable value. Pledges due in subsequent years are reflected as long-term pledges receivable and are recorded at the present value of their net realizable value, using risk-free interest rates applicable to the years in which the pledges are received to discount the amounts. An allowance for uncollectible pledges is provided based on management’s evaluation of potential uncollectible pledges receivable.

Contributions (Continued)

The Ballet is the recipient of annual income distributions from two endowments held by the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee for its exclusive benefit. The Foundation has ultimate authority and control over all property of these endowments, including income derived therefrom, for use in conjunction with the charitable purposes of the Foundation, and, therefore, these assets are not included in the financial statements of the Ballet. These annual income distributions are reflected as contributions in the accompanying statement of activities.

In-Kind Contributions

In-kind contributions that are usable for program services, fundraising, and support of management and general functions are recorded at their fair values in the period received. These contributions consist of donated advertising services. The fair value of the donated services is reflected as in-kind contributions and included in marketing expenses under program services.

In addition, many individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist the Organization with program services and fundraising events. No amounts have been reflected in the financial statements for these donated services since the volunteer's time does not meet the criteria for recognition under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Ballet considers all highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Allowance for Doubtful Grants and Other Receivables

No allowance is considered necessary for grants and other receivables based on estimates made by management.

Inventory

Inventory consists of goods available for sale prior to and following performances and is valued at cost with cost determined on a first-in, first-out basis.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Donated assets are capitalized at fair market value in the period received. The Ballet capitalizes all property and equipment over $500. Depreciation of property and equipment is provided over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets on a straight-line basis as follows:

Building	40 years
Building improvements	15 years
Furniture and equipment	5 years
Sets and props	7 years
Costumes	4 years
Vehicles	5 years

Revenue Recognition

Ballet school tuition is recognized over the course of the applicable school semester or session. Amounts received in advance are considered unearned.

Grant revenue is recognized to the extent qualifying expenditures have been made.

Amortization

The consortium production is amortized over its contractual life of ten years.

Advertising

The Ballet's advertising is non-direct and the costs are expensed as incurred. Advertising expense for the years ended May 31, 2006 and 2005 totaled $128,915 of which $44,614 represents in-kind contributions and $98,403 of which $36,932 represents in-kind contributions, respectively.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the financial statements and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Years ended May 31, 2006 and 2005

NOTE 2 – BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN ASSETS

The Ballet has entered into agreements with the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee (the “Foundation”) on three different funds. One of the funds is considered a beneficial interest in the assets of the Foundation under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) 136 because the Ballet transferred the funds to the Foundation specifying itself as the beneficiary. There are no terms for distribution each year. Historically, 5% has been distributed to the Ballet annually. The accumulative amount recognized in the statement of financial position is $66,673 and $62,943 at May 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, as a beneficial interest in assets held by the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee.

The other two funds held by the Foundation are not considered a beneficial interest in assets held by the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee but are considered the legal assets of the Foundation. These funds were established by transfers to the Foundation on behalf of the Ballet whereby the Foundation has full variance powers and is not obligated to any terms for distribution purposes. Historically, 5% has been distributed to the Ballet annually. Therefore, there is no recognition of the related investment assets in the Ballet’s statement of financial position.

NOTE 3 – PLEDGES RECEIVABLE

These costs will be amortized over the life of the production (straight-line method), which shall be a ten-year period in accordance with the consortium agreement. Related amortization expense for the years ended May 31, 2006 and 2005 amounted to $3,080 and $3,360, respectively.
